At Alexander Holburn we don't just say we care about our people and their futures, we show it.

Our Ascend™ training program is one of the most dynamic internal personal and professional law firm training programs in Canada. In any given year, it includes close to 100 sessions for lawyers and staff on legal practice management, marketing, technology, office, and personal skills.

Whether it's learning how to excel in client service, how to better prepare for a trial, or how to improve time management, we know from the success of these courses that capable lawyers and staff experience increased levels of self-satisfaction and organizational loyalty. Ultimately, that leads to better client satisfaction.
