

Fresh Giving.

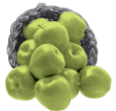

Community involvement is a foundation of our firm. To us, that means involvement by both our lawyers and staff. For example, we are a significant, long-time contributor to the Partners for Life Canadian Blood Services program. In 2006, we doubled our previous year's blood donations to take the top spot in Vancouver for law firm contributions.

Supporting our community benefits those we serve and also strengthens us as an organization by fostering our shared core values. That makes a real difference in how we feel about our jobs.
