

ALLISON
MACDONALD
STUDENT

BIOGRAPHY

Allison joined Alexander Holburn as a summer student in May 2021 and will return for articles in 2022.

She has worked as a research assistant, a professional ballerina and dance teacher, a professional baker, and in construction machinery sales. She currently has a keen interest in litigation.

In law school, Allison competed as an oralist in the 2021 Phillip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition. Additionally, Allison is a member of the TRU Law Oral Advocacy Club, the TRU Women & Law Society, and the TRU Sports Law Club.

Allison has won the TRU Law Dean's Course Prize in Administrative Law, the Bill W. Eremko Memorial Law Award, and the Outstanding First Year Moot Prize. In her first year at law school she won the Canadian Institute for Administration of Justice's National Law Student Competition.

ON A PERSONAL NOTE

Allison enjoys ballet, baking and is an avid MMA fan.
