

EDUCATION

Education is a catalyst for change, driving social progress, cultural achievements, and economic advancement worldwide and in local communities. Alexander Holburn has an abiding commitment to supporting school boards, private educational institutions, and insurers of public schools. We understand the challenges that educational institutions must navigate, from securing funding to managing financial and reputational risks.

Private schools need to protect themselves against litigation, while also managing day-to-day administrative operations, regulatory compliance, and pursuing plans for future expansion. Educational organizations can benefit from our comprehensive perspective on these issues. We consider all sides of the situation—legal, business, political, and reputational—to develop tailored, practical solutions.

Our Education Team is formed of lawyers with diverse expertise across insurance, personal, and business law. This experience enables us to provide our clients with leading-edge advice to serve all of their legal needs. We have significant experience in defending educational institutions against personal injury and human rights claims. Lawyers at our firm also have experience acting for educational institutions in franchise disputes.
