BIOGRAPHY

Sabrina joined Alexander Holburn as a summer student in May 2023.

Sabrina currently attends the Peter A. Allard School of Law at UBC and works with the International Justice and Human Rights Clinic. She was the Co-President of the Asia Pacific Law Club (APLC) and currently serves on the Federation of Asian Canadian Lawyers (British Columbia) mentorship committee. Throughout her first two years at Allard Law, she volunteered with the UBC Law Review, Legal Education Outreach, and the Law Students' Legal Advice Program, where she was a clinic head for the Chinatown Clinic.

Prior to law school, Sabrina studied biology and urban studies at UBC. During this time, she worked in financial services and was involved with the UBC Student Alumni Council.

ON A PERSONAL NOTE

Sabrina loves the outdoors and can be found hiking and camping on the weekends. In her free time, she enjoys playing tennis, visiting art galleries, and biking along the Vancouver seawall.
